Ring a Bell with SMS Repeat Reminders – now compatible with PharmacyPro

Australian company eClinic has developed a communication platform for pharmacies. This platform provides the means for pharmacists to send repeat reminders to patients via SMS, and last repeat script requests to GPs and specialists via the web or fax.

This application, called eClinic Pharmacy, now interfaces with PharmacyPro, enabling you to send repeat reminders to patients via SMS. You can also send product promotions, notices for special events, and even advice to patients when their medication has been dispensed.

In the case of owing and last repeat script requests, eClinic Pharmacy lets you extract last repeat and owing scripts from the PharmacyPro dispensing system and send these script requests to doctors en masse via the web or fax. This can be done on an individual basis, or simultaneously for all doctors.

If you would like more information please contact HealthSoft on 1800 887 610, or eClinic directly on 03 9381 4567, or visit the eClinic website at www.eclinic.com.au.

ScriptPro

ScriptPro Pharmacy Automation has recently installed its first robotic workflow systems in Australasia. There are thousands of these ScriptPro Robotic machines in the USA, and the link to your PharmacyPro system makes it invaluable. Their unique ability to automatically count and label drugs into normal vials, along with the added safety of barcoding technology throughout the process, means these machines offer great safety and efficiency gains to pharmacies.

We will keep you posted on developments as these machines are introduced into Australia.

CD Update

We have sent you a PharmacyPro CD update, but you should only use this disk if you have problems downloading from the Internet. Please keep the disk in a safe place in case you ever need it for reinstalling any computers in the event of a computer hardware problem.
